Blessed.

A beautiful wife, kids that are on their way and a small circle of friends that I love to be around. You have played a large role in making all that possible, but more on that later.

We have always played the long game to help our suppliers get through difficult times. But the past several years have been challenging and have taken a toll. We have lost more overseas suppliers in the past four years than in the prior two decades. COVID, skyrocketing shipping costs, and the icing on the cake has been the tariff situation. Zimbabwe is at almost 20%, and South Africa (Arno Bernard) is at 30% with an additional 50% on imported steel. We have absorbed the lion's share of most of the above as almost doubling the price of an item is not a sustainable practice. Cumulatively, this has turned material parts of our business into another expensive hobby! This is not a sales pitch, but if you are interested in furniture, Kynoch cleaning gear, cartridge boards, etc., I would strongly recommend you buy now as once they are gone, they are not coming back.

If you have met me in person, you know that I have too much gray hair to be a native speaker of social media. My digital marketing training wheels appear to be permanently affixed. One of my most popular Instagram posts inadvertently had my toes in the picture. If I had a dollar for every DM suggesting I open an OnlyFans page, I would be a rich man!

That is not to say the word about the quality of our products and the way we treat our customers has not been broadcast. As I write this, I have just returned from the DSC Summer Show which was amazing. We were right by the main entrance, and a customer somewhat hesitantly purchased a set of shooting sticks. He said he wanted to see how they worked out before buying them for his sons. About five minutes later he came back. I thought he had buyer's remorse, but he said, "Give me two more sets." He said he was stopped four times on the way out by people who recognized what he had and they all said something to the effect of, "You will love them, they are the best ones available." Thank you for doing what I could never accomplish on my own!

In the pages that follow you will find more new items than in any other catalog we have put out in the past 23 years—two knife collections, cool reproduction spears, several big bore leather items and much more. Please keep us in mind for your corporate and personal holiday gift giving as we have 500 pairs of Courteney boots, 500 Arno Bernard knives, and plenty of stock on all our other items in Ohio.

We tell everyone we have the best customers in the world, and you prove that with every referral order we receive. See you at the Winter Shows and please note, SCI took half our booth space away so we will only have room to bring Courteney boots to DSC in Atlanta.

Good hunting,

Jim & Elisabeth

PRESS RELEASE | April 29, 2025

Soldier Accounted For From Korean War (Barbiere, G.)

WASHINGTON –

The Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency announced today that U.S. Army Sgt. George M. Barbiere, 23, of Hicksville, New York, killed during the Korean War, was accounted for Feb. 26, 2025.

Finally Home

In May of 2024, we kicked off a fundraiser to donate a service dog to a combat veteran. It was done to honor my Uncle George, who went MIA at the Frozen Chosin in 1950 during the Korean War. Our goal was to raise $20,000 to fund one service dog trained to meet the specific needs of a very deserving combat veteran. Each dog costs $20,000 because the training takes more than a year.

At that time, we still did not have my Uncle George's remains. Ten months after our fundraiser he was positively identified on February 26, 2025, just shy of 75 years after he went missing.

While he was killed over a decade before I was born, he was always in our hearts. Some might call it a coincidence, but I think he wanted to make sure we did not forget about him before he made his appearance.

In November 2025, Uncle George received a hero's welcome at Arlington National Cemetery where almost 100 men and women in uniform, including several representatives from the POW/MIA Department, came to pay their respects.

Thank you for helping to bring him home!

Last year, I went to the deployment of the first service dog your generosity helped fund. The Malinois that was donated was named George, in my uncle's honor. Words cannot express how grateful we are to be able to honor my uncle in this amazing way. As we head into the holidays I am thankful my mom has been reunited with her brother and they got to watch him be laid to rest together. I am also grateful for all of you, whose generosity allowed us to raise not one but four service dogs. The last three are currently in training.

African Shooting Sticks

Many years ago we only offered one product: African Shooting Sticks.

We set out to make the best available. Our typical customer purchases up to a half-dozen disposable aluminum shooting sticks before investing in ours—the last pair they'll ever need to buy.

Our connectors are the strongest component of our Shooting Sticks, milled from solid aircraft aluminum with three points of contact for unmatched strength. Competitors' adjustment mechanisms are often their weakest link, relying on plastic or thin stamped metal. That's why they typically offer a one-year limited warranty, compared to our unconditional lifetime warranty.

Our sticks are also exceptionally quiet and lightweight. Metallic sounds are unnatural in the wild, yet competitors use hollow aluminum tubes and pointed metal bottoms that can spook game. Our solid wood shafts and pencil-sharpened wood or polymer bottoms are the quietest on the market, helping you get closer. At just 3 pounds, they're also half the weight of aluminum models.

No one ever regretted owning the very best. Our Shooting Sticks have earned a cult-like following among PHs and serious hunters worldwide. Discover why those who hunt for a living—or live to hunt—consider them beyond compare!

"While our sticks cost more, they will save you money over the long run, and your grandchildren will be proud to use them one day."

FAQs & Silver Shooting Sticks

SHOOTING STICKS: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

» How quickly do they ship? Stock Shooting Stick orders ship the next business day. For personalized orders, please allow an additional 7 business days for connector engraving.

» What size should I order? Choose your size based on your height. If you are between sizes, or if you expect to take steep uphill shots, we recommend ordering the next larger size. A slightly longer set is easier to work with than one that is too short. If the sticks are too short, you increase the risk of scope eye. The "V" at the top may also be too narrow to properly support your rifle's fore-end, which can cause the far leg to kick out during recoil.

» What are the most rigid models you offer? All of the models offered are very rigid. Keep in mind that you do not have to press your rifle down into them to improve accuracy. They are simply a rest for your rifle and another point of contact. If you exert a lot of downward pressure, your muscles will fatigue and your groups will actually get larger.

» How long are they when taken apart? All of our models unscrew and can fit in a full-length rifle case. Larges range from 36-38" and XL range from 38-40" long. If you are traveling with a take-down case or want to put them in a duffel bag, then our large or XL SuperCompacts will fit in either with an ID length of at least 28".

» How much do they weigh? Domestic wood, large-sized sticks weigh approximately 2.5 pounds. Exotic wood sticks weigh a half-pound more due to their greater density, but this is still less than most premium Aluminum tripods. Super Compacts Hickory domestics weigh approximately 3 pounds (Featherweights weigh ½ pound less) due to the extra set of connectors which increase their versatility and allow them to unscrew to a shorter length.

» Do you repair them? Yes, although we have needed to repair fewer than a dozen sets in 15 years. If your sticks need repair, simply send them back with a note explaining what needs to be done. If you need replacement parts that have been lost or worn out, they can be ordered online.

Dirk de Bod has used the same set on hundreds of hunts over the past two decades!

SILVER SHOOTING STICKS

- Machine-sewn leather tops

Fully Loaded Large: for 69"-73" hunters $339
Fully Loaded XL: for hunters 73"+ $369

Build Your Own Exotic Wood Shooting Sticks

We offer the option to build a set of Shooting Sticks to your specific needs and preferences. The best choice depends on what matters most to you.

If VERSATILITY and a SHORTER BREAK-DOWN LENGTH are your top priorities, choose our SuperCompacts. By using one, two, or all three sections, they support prone, sitting/kneeling, and standing shots. If weight also matters, the Featherweight SuperCompacts are ideal at just 2.5 lbs. For hunters over 6'4", we can custom-build this model to fit hunters up to 7' tall, which we cannot do with our traditional two-piece models.

If WEIGHT is your main concern, we offer two excellent options, including the Featherweight SuperCompacts above. Our two-piece Featherweight Acacia Shooting Sticks weigh about 2.0 lbs.—roughly half the weight of many premium aluminum sticks—while also being stiffer and quieter. They are lighter than the Featherweight SuperCompacts because they use only one set of aluminum connectors.

Handcrafted Tributes to a Legendary Sporting Tradition

NEW

Inspired by Robert Baden-Powell's 1889 book Pig-Sticking or Hog-Hunting, these remarkable lances are equally suited for display in a trophy room or sporting collection, or as conversation pieces.

After years of searching for a complete antique Manton lance, we acquired four original 150-year-old lance heads to recreate these historic pieces with distinctive finishing touches. Each handcrafted lance requires up to 100 steps and 4–12 hours of handwork. Shafts are made from carefully selected bamboo, with more than half rejected for imperfections.

Traditional models feature exceptionally strong, nearly solid Calcutta bamboo, while select Turnbull models use yellow bamboo with contrasting black epoxy accents. Each lance includes a thick leather palm protector, modeled after a 150-year-old museum example and secured with 84 inches of black cord.

Out Of Africa: The Best Boot Company You've Never Heard Of

Boots and shoes handcrafted by The Courteney Boot Company have gained a reputation as being among the best footwear made anywhere in the world.

The global footwear market is estimated to grow to $426 billion by 2022. The boot and shoe industry is growing at 6.2% annually and is experiencing one of the longest and most profitable periods in the history of the footwear market.

To compete, industry leaders like Nike, Wolverine, Red Wing and the Thursday Boot Company are embracing high-tech automation, analytics to identify and understand customer demand and buying behavior, machine learning to automate manual processes, and digital solutions to maximize customer engagement in stores and online.

One boot company, however, has found success by doing the opposite. In fact, the company many boot and shoe experts consider to be the best in the world has a factory that can only manufacture 30 pairs of boots per day.

A LOOK INSIDE OUR COLLECTION

We are particularly fond of Maasai Lion and Zulu stabbing (Iklwa) spears/shields and intricately crafted Kuba spears from the Congo. We have many sizes, materials and tribes within our extensive inventory. Most of our items are at least 75-100 years old and some are much older. They were acquired from European museums or at auction. Many are coated with soot from hundreds of wood fires and are readily distinguishable from their mass-produced replicas. The items shown in our catalog and online are a small sampling of our collection.

Please keep in mind that our online inventory sells quickly. However, we set aside a few special pieces that are not offered on our site or in our annual catalog to serve as substitute items. If you are looking for something in particular or want more details on an item, call us at (419) 529-5599.

We have one of the largest African weapons collections in the country.
